PRINCIPAL’S MESSAGE

Dear Parents, Students and Community members,

Independence & Resilience
As a school we are focussed on students’ development in the academic sense and as individuals. In the long term, we are aiming for each individual student to grow into a young man or woman who is able to pursue their choices in life, maximising their capabilities and being able to work through the many challenges they encounter. To do this every child needs to be continually developing their personal capabilities to be independent and resilient (in relation to the age and stage of growth).

Our students of every age have to learn to become more independent as they grow older. To foster students becoming independent, parents and teachers have to provide opportunities for students to experience doing things for themselves. At school, this may mean carrying their own bag into school, having to deliver notes to the teacher themselves or returning books to the library on time, to name a few instances. At home, it may mean making their own bed daily, cleaning up after dinner or completing jobs around the house, for example.

Of course, fostering independence means that teachers and parents have to “let go” and trust students. Mistakes will be made, but these should be worked through in a supportive manner, to build confidence in self and students’ capability.

Similarly, students have to learn to be resilient. This means that they have to develop a confidence, an “inner strength” and skills to deal with the ups and downs of daily life. In many cases, developing students’ confidence, confirming positive responses to challenges and allowing students to experience working through issues for themselves, contributes positively towards students becoming more resilience.

For both these themes, at one extreme is the “over-controlling” parent/teacher. At the other extreme is the parent/teacher who is excessively relaxed and aimless. The best place is to be somewhere in between at a position where the parent/teacher is conscious of the child’s development and providing opportunity for positive, “low threat” experiences from which students will learn.

There are many books written on these topics – if you are interested in exploring further, it is well worth the effort.

Student Absences
Parents were sent a flier yesterday, reminding of the requirement to advise the school of every absence. Our goal is to ensure every child is accounted for every day.

Parents are strongly encouraged to advise the school of their child’s absence before/on the day of an absence by:
- emailing absences@yugumbirss.eq.edu.au
- calling the absence line Ph 3380 0360

The parent of a child whose absence is unexplained on a given day, will receive a text at approx. 10am, advising of the absence and requesting a reason for the absence.

Parents are strongly encouraged to respond to this text as soon as is possible.
Show Holiday
Next Monday, 8th August, is the designated Ekka Holiday across the Logan area. All schools will be closed on this day.

Naidoc Parade.
Our students celebrated Naidoc Week last week, culminating in a Naidoc parade on Friday. An address from Auntie Robyn and a dance by Auntie Jeanette engaged our students as did an address by our local federal Member of Parliament, Mr Jim Chalmers. The main themes of the parade were:
- understanding and respect of our first Australians and their culture.
- respect for the natural environment
- acknowledging that our school is named after the indigenous language of this area – “Yugumbeh”, thus embedding a connection.

After the parade, students engaged in a range of activities relating to indigenous culture. These activities were very enjoyable and lots of fun.
Our thanks to Mrs Wakefield, Mrs Field, choirs, four Year 4 girls for leading a song and to the students who led the parade so capably. Well done Yugumbir.

Naplan
Students in Years 3 and 5 undertook the Naplan tests in Term 2. The results are now available to the school and individual reports are ready to be sent home to students. After checking of the reports for accuracy, each Year 3 and 5 student will receive their individual report this week.
Parents are encouraged to store these reports in a secure place for future reference. The school does not have a hard copy.
Naplan is a “point-in-time” test and there will sometimes be variations in students’ results, in comparison to their class assessment which is more current and accurate.
The school will be thoroughly analysing the Naplan data to identify areas of strength, areas for continued focus/improvement and trends and patterns that guide the school’s improvement journey.

Speech Pathology Week
The students of our school are supported by two Speech Language Pathology teachers, Miss Wallace and Mrs Dhnaram. These expert teachers play a critical role in our school. They are able to assess students who are experiencing difficulties, use their expertise to identify difficulties and design appropriate strategies to support students to improve their oral language. Speech Language Pathologists work with teachers and parents to develop and implement programs which are specific to each student’s needs.
This week is designated Speech Pathology Week. Find a message from our Speech Language Pathologists that is useful for all younger children, below….

Communication is a key to success at school and for Speech Pathology week (August 7-13, 2016) we are highlighting the importance of communication in creating futures for our children. If we think about the classroom it is a buzz of words, explanations, questions, reading and writing. The ability to use language for thinking and learning is important for school success and creating students futures.
Children learn to speak by talking with other people. The more children practice talking, the more they will learn. As parents you begin the teaching language from the very first day often with “mum mum mum” or “dad dad dad”. It is important to continue modelling and teaching language by talking with your child. Conversations are an easy way to boost your child’s language and learning. When you have a conversation with your child, you help them to learn new words and different ways of talking about their ideas and opinions. Conversations can take place anytime, anywhere: while playing together, sharing a book, watching TV together, in the park, at the shops or over dinner. Having conversations with your child will help their language grow in readiness for learning to read and write.
Making time for conversation gives your child more opportunities to learn about the world around them. When talking with your child make comments and ask questions about what they are interested in. Take the time to listen to what they say and respond to them and their ideas.

RULE OF THE WEEK - FROM 5LB

During Term 1, the Year 5 classes completed a unit focussing on how to stay safe online. With this fortnight’s rule of the week ‘Be Cyberwise’, 5LB has collated a few tips to share with everyone about being safe and responsible in eSpaces. Some of the things that we can do to make sure we make responsible choices in with devices are:

• Keeping passwords a secret
• Using devices (iPads, phones, computers) responsibly and carefully
• To respect copyright laws
• To check-in our phones to the office in the morning
• Not to take photos or publish photos of anyone without their (or their parents) permission
• If you post it you own it: Once it is ‘out there’ on the internet, you can’t take it back, even if you regret saying it or posting it. Even things we think are ‘deleted’ never really are.

We also found the Office of the Children’s eSafety Commissioner’s website (https://www.esafety.gov.au/) to be a great website for parents, teachers and kids. It helps kids understand where to find information about keeping safe online, what to do if you spot inappropriate content online and what you should do if you (or someone you know) is being bullied online.

Dear Parents/Guardians/Grandparents/Friends,

On Wednesday, 10 August, the children in Prep through to Year 3 will take part in our school’s SPORTS FUN DAY. Every effort has been made to provide a highly participative day and, as you can see from the program, the children will be involved in many activities. We welcome all parents, guardians, grandparents and friends to come along and take part in the day.

A FEW THINGS TO REMEMBER:
• Children are to wear House sports uniform i.e. coloured T-shirts & shorts or skirts.
• If girls wear bicycle pants they must wear their skirt over the top.
• Children must keep their shoes on at all times. No soccer boots or similar are to be worn.
• Bring something to sit on, some shade cover, hat, etc.
• If you wish to order lunch from the Tuckshop, please do so before 9.00 am. A picnic lunch by the oval might be an idea.
• As you can appreciate, there will be a lot of excited children taking up a lot of room at activity areas. We do like you to be there to watch your child but, so that teachers can run activities efficiently, please do not enter into the activity areas.
• Please note that photography and video recording should be of your own child and must be for personal and private use only.

Thank you for your cooperation. We look forward to seeing you there.

QPARENTS

QPARENT – The QParents web and mobile application provides an easier way for you to interact with our school. Parents will have secure, online access to their child’s student information, anytime, anywhere, through a smartphone, tablet or computer. It provides access to student information such as:

- Attendance details
- Behaviour
- Report cards
- Timetables
- Invoices
- Payment history

Parents are also able to update your child’s details including address and medical conditions, submit reasons for unexplained absences, notify the school of future absences, and make online payments against school invoices.

How will I get access to Q Parent?
You will be able to register a QParents account through the school office. Parents should advise the school office of their desire to register for Qparent. Staff will then support the parent through the registration process.

One parent/caregiver will then be nominated by the school principal to manage the student’s information.

QParents will assist both staff and parents in sharing and responding to information in an efficient and effective way.

The benefits of QParents
Convenience and time savings for parents

- Parents can view or update their child’s details without having to contact the school.
- Secure 24/7 online access.
- Available anytime, anywhere — access QParents on your smartphone, tablet or computer.

Greater transparency of information

- Improves accountability between parents and schools by providing parents with timely access to their child’s information online.
- Allows parents to engage more deeply in their child’s schooling.

Improved administration efficiencies for schools

- Allows schools to streamline their administrative processes and cut down on printing.
The Q Schools mobile app

The QSchools app is a convenient way to share up-to-the-minute information with the school community.

The app is designed to integrate with Websites for Schools websites. When a school publishes content to their website, the app is automatically updated with the latest news, events and newsletters.

Emergency announcements and push notifications, such as information about natural disasters and school closures, can be published by the department.

All Queensland state schools are searchable via the app, however only schools who have upgraded their school website with Websites for Schools will benefit from all the features of the app.

Parent and Community Engagement Framework alignment

The QSchools app is a useful tool for schools implementing the Parent and Community Engagement Framework to facilitate:

- better communication with the school community
- community collaboration
- encourage participation in the school community.

Benefits for parents, carers and families:

- access the latest school news, newsletters and calendar events
- receive emergency announcements and push notifications
- follow multiple schools
- search for the nearest school by current location, postcode, school name or suburb.

Compatible with the following devices:

- Android
- Apple
- Windows

Encourage your school community to download for free via the Apple iTunes Store, Google Play and Windows Stores.
1. Download or update the QSchools app
   Compatible with the following devices:
   - Android
   - Apple
   - Windows 8

   To receive automatic updates, you will need to ensure that QSchools push notifications are enabled in your phone settings.

2. Search for your school
   The QSchools app allows you to search by:
   - School name search
   - Map search
   - Schools near your current location

3. ‘Favourite’ your school to receive updates
   By favouriting your school, you will:
   - Have access to school information, newsletters, reports and more
   - Automatically receive important updates and push notifications from your school
Whooping Cough (Pertussis)

Whooping cough (or pertussis) is a highly contagious respiratory infection caused by the bacterium Bordetella pertussis. Whooping cough can affect people of any age. For adolescents and adults, the infection may only cause a persistent cough. However, for babies and young children, whooping cough can be life threatening. Complications of whooping cough in babies include pneumonia, fits and brain damage from prolonged lack of oxygen. Most hospitalisations and deaths occur in babies less than six months of age.

In Australia, epidemics occur every 3 to 4 years. In 2011, 38,732 cases were reported nationally. The highest rates of disease were in infants <6 months of age and children 5 – 9 years.

Signs and Symptoms:

Whooping cough often starts like a cold with a runny nose, sneezing and tiredness over several days, and then the characteristic coughing bouts develop. These bouts can be very severe and frightening, and may end with a crowing noise (the 'whoop') as air is drawn back into the chest. Coughing episodes are frequently followed by gagging or vomiting. During coughing attacks, a child’s breathing can be obstructed and they may become blue or stop breathing. The bouts of coughing may continue for many weeks even after appropriate treatment. Babies under six months of age, vaccinated children, adolescents and adults may not display the typical whoop. Even in adults, pertussis can cause significant problems with the cough persisting for up to 3 months, and other symptoms, such as sleep disturbance or, rarely, rib fracture.

Treatment:

Treatment is a course of antibiotics which reduces the time a person is infectious to others and may reduce symptoms if given early in the disease. To be effective, antibiotics need to be given within 21 days of the start of general symptoms or within 14 days of the start of the bouts of coughing.

Some people who have had close contact with an infected person may need to take antibiotics to prevent infection. This includes people at high risk of serious complications (i.e. children aged less than six months); and others who might spread it to these children, such as women near the end of their pregnancy, or people who live or work with infants under the age of 6 months. Seek the advice of your doctor about the need for antibiotics to reduce the risk of infection in yourself or in infants at risk of serious complications.

Transmission:

Whooping cough bacteria are highly infectious and are spread to other people by an infected person coughing and sneezing. The infection can also be passed on through direct contact with infected secretions from the mouth or nose. The time between exposure to the bacteria and getting sick is usually seven to ten days, but can be up to three weeks. A person is most infectious in the early stages of their illness. Unless treated with appropriate antibiotics for at least five days, a person is regarded as infectious for three weeks after the first sign of any cough, or 14 days after the start of the bouts of coughing.

Prevention:

To avoid passing the disease on to others, a person with whooping cough should stay away from work, school, pre-school or child care until they have had at least 5 days of their course of antibiotics, or until 21 days after the first sign of any coughing, or until 14 days after the severe bouts of coughing began.

If people who have had close contact with an infectious person are not fully vaccinated, they may need to stay away from places where there are young children or pregnant women. Your doctor can provide advice on this.

Anyone who has been in close contact with an infectious person should keep a close eye on their own health. If they develop signs of early whooping cough in the three weeks following the exposure, they should immediately remove themselves from close contact with others until they have seen a doctor, mentioning to the doctor about the contact with whooping cough. The person should not return to work until they are no longer infectious; or another cause has been confirmed for their illness.

People who are visiting a doctor in relation to whooping cough should advise the staff either prior to the visit or immediately on arrival so appropriate infection control measures can be taken.

VACCINATION

Vaccination is the most effective way to control whooping cough. In Australia the pertussis vaccine is only available in combination with diphtheria and tetanus; and additionally the pertussis/tetanus/diphtheria vaccine for children is given as one injection combined with other childhood vaccines such as polo, hepatitis B and Haemophilus influenzae type b.

To ensure full protection at the right time, it is important that all the doses of the vaccine are given at the recommended times; although catch up vaccinations can and should be given if vaccines are delayed for some reason.

Immunisation against whooping cough is recommended as part of the National Immunisation Program Schedule and the vaccine is funded for:

- Infants aged 2 months (vaccines due at 2 months can be given from 6 weeks), 4 months and 6 months
